

PARTNER WITH JJM[®]

JJM[®] OFFERS FIVE DISTINCT SERIES OF CONDENSATE NEUTRALIZERS:

K-SERIES

Ideal for most residential and commercial condensing appliance installations, the K-Series blends industrial strength with a lightweight and compact inline tube design.

NBT-SERIES

Our most versatile line of tank neutralizers, NBT-Series neutralizers are easily serviceable with a removable lid.

V-SERIES

V-Series neutralizers are ideal for single and multi-unit residential installations where floor space is limited—JJM[®]'s vertical mount solution.

JM-SERIES

Built to withstand the toughest conditions, JM-Series neutralizers feature a heavy-duty inline tube design specifically for larger commercial installations.

NB-SERIES

The NB-Series consists of heavy-duty tank neutralizers built for demanding light commercial installations where a small footprint is warranted.

ACIDIC CONDENSATE NEUTRALIZERS

Give your customers the complete solution to high-efficiency, gas-fired appliance installations. Since 2005, JJM[®] has been the first and best manufacturer of condensate neutralizers for the heating and plumbing industries. Let's work together to make a difference.

Together we are protecting facilities and the environment from acidic condensate produced by today's condensing boilers, furnaces, and water heaters.

Why Become a Distributor

JJM® offers the largest portfolio of condensate neutralizers in the market. We offer contractors a solution for every condensing appliance installation. Other benefits include:

- Fast order processing and shortest lead times in the industry.
- Recurring sales opportunities from pH Power Pellets® refills, JJM®'s proprietary media—recommended replacement every 6–12 months.
- Products are warranted against defects in materials and workmanship for one year.
- Competitive pricing and Alkaline Rewards rebate program.
- Pallet quantities available for our best-sellers.

Join The Program. Get The Rewards.

JJM® is focused on the wholesale channel and our pricing program is designed to support distributors like you. The Alkaline Rewards Program is JJM®'s annual rebate program offering significant rebates based on total net sales during the calendar year.
